> Apex's current 50K EOD Evaluation can be passed in one day and uses a $3,000 target, $2,000 end-of-day drawdown, and $1,000 daily loss limit. Its platform choice and 100% approved-payout split are strong, but the 30-day evaluation window, tier-based PA scaling, safety net, 50% payout consistency, and six-payout limit make the funded stage less simple than the headline suggests.

Frequently asked questions

What are the current 50K EOD Evaluation limits? –

The target is $3,000, EOD drawdown is $2,000, daily loss limit is $1,000, and the evaluation maximum is six contracts.

How fast can the evaluation be passed? –

There is no minimum-day requirement, so it can be passed in one trading day if every rule is met.

When can a 50K EOD PA request a payout? –

After five qualifying days with at least $250 profit each, while meeting the safety-net, minimum-balance, and 50% consistency rules.

Which platform routes are available? –

Apex currently offers Tradovate, Rithmic, and WealthCharts for new products.

Does a current EOD PA last indefinitely? –

No. It has an activity rule and a maximum of six approved payouts.
